Now it's even easier being green with Kemiko!

Stone Tone Wax II is LEED Compliant'

Kemiko Stain For Concrete is pleased to announce the addition of a new product to their list of "green" LEED compliant products. LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) defines the standard for environmentally sustainable and responsible building materials.

Epmar Corporation, the manufacturer of Kemiko concrete products, has developed Stone Tone Wax II, a wax that is waterborne and applied the same way as the previous Stone Tone Wax. Stone Tone Wax II is now "green" with no solvent odor and with the same excellent benefits; easy to use, non-yellowing, and long-lasting.

This product, added to the current list of LEED compliant Kemiko products, makes Kemiko the best choice for environmentally trustworthy concrete stains, waxes, and sealers. Given that "going green" is the current trend for buildings, homes, and renovations, Kemiko is proud to play a major role in environmental responsibility with quality products.
